Key Project Delivery 2022/23

About us

Stonewater's social purpose is at the heart of everything we do, in pursuit of our Vision – 'For everyone to have the opportunity to have a place that they can call home'. We manage around 34,500 homes in England for over 76,000 customers, for general rent, shared ownership and sale, alongside specialist services including retirement and supported living schemes, domestic abuse refuges, a dedicated LGBTQ+ Safe Space, and young people's foyers.

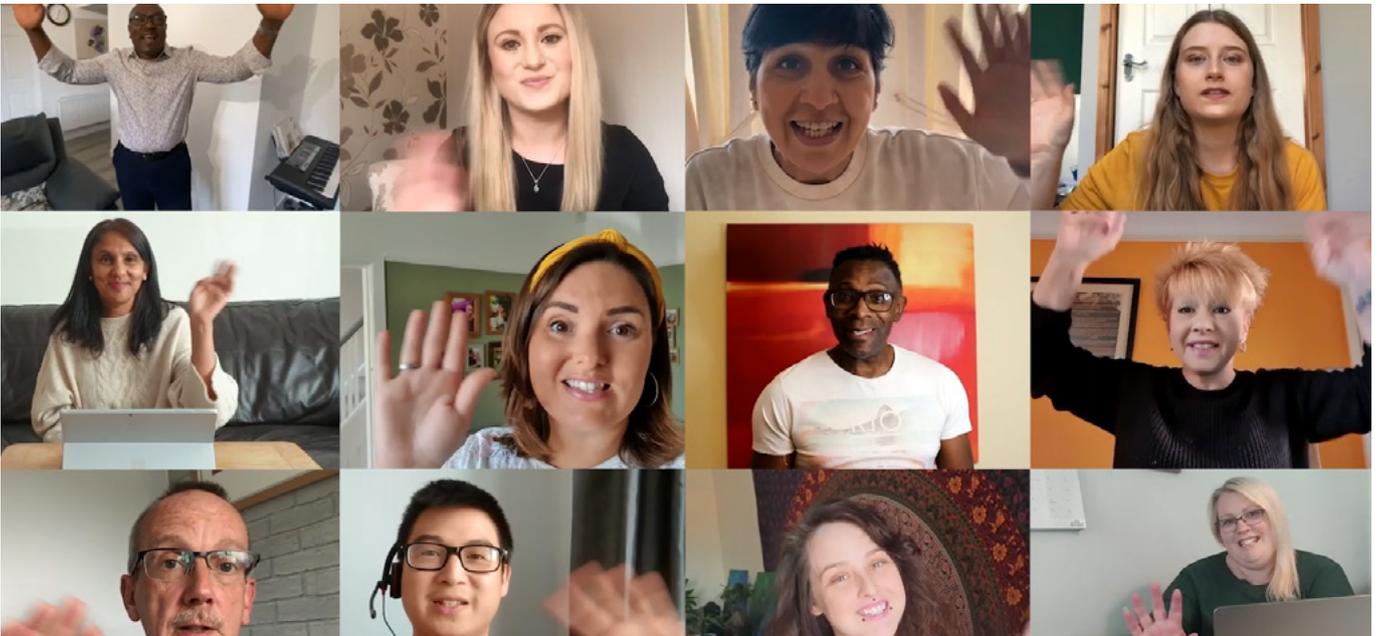

Our Vision is made possible by being a strong, dynamic and well-managed social business, which enables us to build new homes and invest in the quality of our existing housing stock, doing the right thing for our customers and the environment.

With an annual turnover of around £210m and £2bn in fixed assets, we have a long-term rating of A+ by independent credit ratings agency S&P Global Ratings and a top G1/V1 governance and viability ranking from the Regulator of Social Housing.

We will achieve our Vision through trusted partnerships, with our customers, our stakeholders, and our delivery partners.

We're proud to be the largest long-term strategic partner alongside Guinness Partnership with Homes England. In addition to our own ambition to build 1,500 new homes a year from 2022-23, this partnership will deliver 4,180 new Stonewater homes by 2029. We are also the largest management partner for Legal & General Affordable Homes, supporting its ambitious development plan across England.

Our colleagues breathe life into our Vision, through bringing their whole selves to work and embracing our Customer Promise. We're proud to be recognised as a 'Two Star' workplace in 2022 by Best Companies, and one of the Top 100 Large Organisations to work for in the UK as well as one of the Top 25 Best Housing Associations.

From the Chairman

Stonewater has always been both diligent and ambitious in shaping its Strategic Plan, which defines our priorities and direction as a social business. Thanks to our strength and agility, we have been able not just to weather the immense challenges of the last two years, but to find opportunities which drive our Vision forward in new ways.

While we still face so much uncertainty, it feels right that we should evolve our thinking, to reflect what we have learned, where we are heading, and what our customers tell us is most important to them.

The national backdrop and economic landscape is tough - with rising inflation, labour and supply chain issues, energy price hikes and the general 'cost of living' crisis leaving few untouched. Our social ethos compels us to respond in ways which recognise these impacts on the customers and communities we serve.

As an organisation, we know that the choices we make today are what shape our tomorrow and we seek to balance both short-term results with longer-term outcomes. Our focus on the net zero agenda is already delivering benefits for customers, through initiatives like our Bedford development of EPC A-rated homes, our innovative gas-free development of low-carbon homes in Wakefield (the largest of its kind in the UK), and our ongoing commitment to installing electric vehicle (EV) charging points across both new and existing schemes. We are also continuing to raise the bar across the sector, with our new Employer Agent Framework, Gold standard SHIFT rating and annual ESG targets.

We remain the largest social housing partner of the Community Forest Trust, having supported the planting of over 17,000 trees to date as well as community outreach programmes, and our appointment of the Coda Workshop (specialising in low-energy, creative design) as the first recipient of the George Blunden Public Art Prize, underpins our commitment to creating vibrant, sustainable communities.

While the immediate outlook remains extremely challenging (both for businesses and individuals), Stonewater is in a strong position. In setting out our Strategic Plan to 2030, we are building on the foundations of what we have already achieved, while also anticipating future needs and opportunities. We have placed our Customer Promise at the heart of our thinking, underpinned by clear objectives shaped around Customer-centred Services, Quality Homes and Neighbourhoods, and Value Maximisation.

To be able to deliver on these will take a combination of financial strength, clear governance, and ambitious innovation - alongside, of course, the passion and professionalism of Stonewater colleagues.

If the last couple of years have taught us anything, it's the real value of home and the incredible depth of resilience we have within our communities. Driven by that, we will continue to be here for those that need us most and remain true to our Vision 'for everyone to have the opportunity to have a place that they can call home'.

From the Chief Executive

It is difficult to summarise the scale of change and challenge we have experienced over the last couple of years, both societal and personal. We have had to think the unthinkable, imagine the unimaginable and do (what was previously assumed) the undoable.

Stonewater's investment in digital transformation - a key pillar of our earlier Strategic Plans - meant we had both the capability and agility to move successfully to new ways of working. We have continued to evolve our hybrid model, reflecting the needs of both customers and colleagues - placing safety, wellbeing, choice and flexibility at the heart of everything we do.

We're incredibly proud to have been awarded a Two Star Best Companies rating and be placed sixth among the Top 25 Housing Associations to work for. The achievement is mirrored by customers too, with a 4+-star rating on Trustpilot, and on-target performance for transactional and responsive repairs satisfaction.

We continue to listen carefully to what customers tell us matters most to them and shape our future ambitions around their needs. At present, the nation is facing a 'perfect storm' of economic volatility, rising inflation and taxes, static wages and huge increases in energy and food costs. We know the impacts will hit those already struggling the hardest and pull many more below the poverty line. We have already introduced a raft of support, including increased funding for our charitable partner, the Longleigh Foundation, which is doing fantastic work to help those in immediate need. Of course, we need to balance the 'here and now' with our future vision, which is why we have re-visited our Strategic Plan to ensure we have the right blueprint to build on our strength and success.

Our Plan (to 2030) sets out a range of ambitious targets and deliverables which will mean we do the right things, in the right ways, for the right reasons. In essence, we will lead on building quality, affordable homes, offering inclusive, efficient services, while championing sustainable practice and communities. It's this social purpose that drives us forward and I have every confidence we will not just meet, but thrive on, the challenges that still lie ahead.

Our Strategic Plan to 2030

Our Strategic Plan has been developed with colleagues and Board members, responding to the insight we have drawn from our customers and operating environment, and how we believe we can maximise the value we provide.

Looking forward to 2030, this sets out a range of ambitious targets including our aspiration to build 12,000 new affordable homes and to have reached one of our environmental milestones with 100% of our homes achieving at least Energy Performance Certificate band 'C'.

We will review the Plan annually to ensure that we continue to focus on the things that will add most value for our customers and that we adapt to changes in our operating environment.

We continue to operate amidst a sustained period of multiple challenges for our customers and society as a whole.

In navigating these challenges we have made significant enhancements to our operating model, enabling us to continue to develop and provide quality services to our customers.

We have re-evaluated how we work, what matters to our customers and partners, the value we bring as a provider of safe and secure affordable homes, and the responsibility we have to minimise our environmental impact.

It has been a team effort and colleagues have adapted to the challenges faced, embodying our values and ensuring customers are at the heart of all we do.

Our Customer Promise

'We're proud to make things personal. If it matters to our customers it matters to us.'

Our Customer Promise sits at the heart of our Strategic Plan, our actions, our decisions, and our operating model.

We deliver services with the aim of providing the best outcomes for our customers:

- Making it easy to engage with us
- Focusing on getting things right and when we don't saying sorry, fixing it and learning for the future
- Listening to customers so that what we change, they influence; where their experience could be better, we improve
- Recognising the value that our partnerships bring to support our Customer Promise

Our customers are at various stages in their life and in their own unique situations. Like the majority of people across the UK, many have been adversely impacted by Coronavirus, increasing living costs, and benefit reforms.

Whilst our core role is to provide consistently good homes and services, we can make a difference by enabling our customers to thrive in communities that are healthier, kinder and resilient. We will use insight to understand our customers and neighbourhoods, and through partnerships seek to:

- Develop the assets and strengths of local people and their places
- Maximise local opportunities for people to connect
- Facilitate support where it's needed to live a good life

Positively Digital

We have made significant progress in developing our digital capabilities, and will continue to invest where this supports the development and maintenance of homes that are sustainable for the future; improves our services to customers; or increases our efficiency.

We know that customer expectations of accessing services digitally, in ways that suit them, will continue to grow and we will develop services to meet their needs. Equally, we recognise that there are situations where non-digital service delivery can provide greater value and that some of our customers may prefer this. Our operating model will allow for this flexibility whilst maintaining consistently high standards.

Through a Positively Digital approach we will:

Design digital services around users so that digital is a preferred choice for the majority of customers

Work with Longleigh Foundation to invest in developing digital skills for our customers

Simplify our processes across different channels of contact that improve customer experience
